Introduction:

The Military Suicide Research Consortium's (MSRC) continued goal (as stated in the initial report) is suicide prevention in the military, through research, including on primary, secondary, and tertiary interventions, as well as through information management/scientific communications (cataloguing and disseminating knowledge on military suicide). Specifically, suicidal personnel compromise force readiness, place a strain on the healthcare resources of the military, impact unit morale, and take a large emotional toll on the involved friends, family, and commanders. As noted, these points still have not changed and continue to direct how MSRC progresses in its mission. The stigma associated with being suicidal, which limits the extent to which at-risk individuals are willing to seek help, is still present. As MSRC progresses in the development of its tools, it has established a go-to resource for decision-makers to obtain accurate and efficient answers regarding suicidal behavior, again with an emphasis on the military perspective. MSRC continues with and has not changed its design, to facilitate information management/scientific communications for the DoD and to maximize research efforts at understanding and improving suicide risk screening and assessment, interventions, and population-level prevention programs. Now beyond the early stages, the programs and projects conducted by the Consortium continue to provide significant assistance to those involved and continue to ensure that information management/scientific communications occur seamlessly, and that screening and assessment, intervention, and prevention efforts are based on the best possible scientific evidence, specific to military personnel. As will be conveyed in the following sections MSRC and its associates have increased their level of involvement and dissemination of information. (Note the updates on studies, outcomes, publications, conferences, white papers and other activities.) MSRC continues to receive acknowledgement for its work and its contributions have been noted by many senior level positions. MSRC has stayed true to its goal: expanding knowledge, understanding, and capacity to prevent, treat, and enhance the quality of life of persons in military communities who are affected by suicide-related problems. These basic statements seem duplicative from previous years but it enforces the adherence to the initial purpose for MSRC.

The Consortium's overall mission has not changed and continues to be summarized as follows; again, with each function developed to have clear military relevance:

1. Produce new scientific knowledge about suicidal behavior in the military that will improve mental health outcomes for our men and women in uniform.
2. Use high quality research methods and analyses to address problems in policy and practice that will have a direct impact on suicide-related and other mental health outcomes for military personnel.
3. Disseminate Consortium knowledge, information, and findings through a variety of methods appropriate for decision makers, practitioners, and others who are accountable for ensuring the mental health of military personnel. This will include a rapid response function so that queries from decision makers and others to the Consortium will be answered with speed and efficiency. Technical assistance and support for decision makers and others is an integral aspect of this Consortium function. This aspect of the Consortium will warehouse knowledge about suicidal behavior in general (e.g., from civilian and international sources as well as from military sources), so that military issues can be informed in a comprehensive manner.

4. Train future leaders in military suicide research through experience within a multi-disciplinary setting for Ph.D. students and postdoctoral scholars interested in research questions on military suicide of both a basic and applied nature.

Once again, the inter-relations and flow of information between the Cores and the research program continues to be an important component of the Consortium. The Executive Management Core (Core A) continues to be involved with all other Cores and the research program, to exert vision, oversight, leadership and quality control over them including the external advisory board, public relations, training, and the operation of all other Cores and the intramural and extramural research programs. In its capacity as knowledge warehouse/communication center, the Information Management/Scientific Communications Core (Core B) receives data and materials from all elements of the Consortium, and continues to generate information to military decision makers and others. All this is handled in an efficient and rapid manner. The MIRECC site PI continues to provide additional administrative oversight. The Database Management/Statistical Core (Core C) continues to be a very important asset to the Consortium, since it still provides world-class data management and analysis infrastructure and consulting. The intramural and extramural research programs are still focusing on doing cutting-edge empirical studies and continue to further the knowledge base on topics such as risk assessment, treatment, and prevention, all as pertain to suicidal behavior in the military.

Body:

Statement of Work

Task 1. Project Start-up (months 1-3)

- 1a. Create infrastructure for all Cores (month 1)
  - This task is fully in place and functioning.
- 1b. Hire and train staff (month 2)
  - All Cores are fully staffed and progressing.
- 1c. Core C conduct first comprehensive literature review (month 3)
  - This task was completed on schedule.

Task 2. Plan research projects (months 4-9)

- 2a. Establish intramural research priorities in consultation with External Advisory Board (month 4)
  - The initial priorities were established in conjunction with the Military External Advisory Board (MEAB).

- 2c. Continue creation of Core B infrastructure (months 4-9)
  - The infrastructure is developed and functioning.
  - Continue to work with Mendeley and Citagora, and at no additional cost.

- Continue to maintain two websites. The MSRC site (msrc.fsu.edu) continues to be for general user information, public interaction and for overall updates. The dashboard site (msrc.idiginfo.org) is for repository research, technical review and related functions.
- Build tools for finding publications by topic and displaying relevant paragraphs.
- Develop controlled vocabulary for analyzing research publications. Such as extracting vocabulary from core papers, analyzing that vocabulary to group words by topic. These topics are used to enhance discovery of documents in the bibliography. Each document in the bibliography is indexed by these words.
- Developed tools for extracting text from PDF documents. Developed XtractPDF, which combines automatic text extraction with human curation to create full text documents.
- Conduct research in semantic enhancements - deployed the Biotea tool for annotating and displaying rich information from the full text of 300,000 documents from the Pubmed Central document store. This allows users to search the documents using standard biomedical vocabularies and read the matching documents by relevant paragraphs.
- Publication of research reports and presentations at professional conferences, such as the Extended Semantic Web Conference.

Key Research Accomplishments:

FSU Funded Projects (material gleaned from other reports)

Five new studies were added to FSU as sub-awards. Four have already begun their activities and the fifth will begin next year. The three existing FSU funded projects are progressing with one having completed its tasks.

Brief Interventions for Short Term Suicide Risk Reduction in Military Populations -- PI: Craig J. Bryan, PsyD

- The scheduled staff meetings continue as planned.
- Annual IRB progress reports were submitted and continuing review was received in August 2013.
- Intake evaluations and follow-up assessments continue. To date 34 subjects have been enrolled and 3 subjects have completed all follow-up assessments.
- One of the research therapists recently left due to a family move - since hired and trained a new research therapist. Have also hired a part-time research fellow (Dr. Tracy Clemans) to assist with on-site training, supervision, and oversight.
- Clinician-administered data are entered within 72 hours of data collection. Backlogged clinician-administered data due to initial database problems are now being entered, with an anticipated completion date of 15 September 2013.
- Automatic data verification and QA mechanisms have been built into the database to identify errors. Additional reviews were completed during August 2013, with errors being corrected at that time.
- No empirical results have yet been obtained from this study since enrollment has not yet begun. The first year of this study has resulted in the successful accomplishment of regulatory approvals required for the conduct of research with human subjects.
- Due to the early success of this project, Dr. Bryan has been featured in the military regarding military suicide and effective interventions for this population. He was also selected as the recipient for the Peter J.N. Linnerooth National Service Award by the Psychologists in Public Service for his research and work focused on military suicide treatment development.
- Dr. Craig Bryan currently has four manuscripts under review and eleven published articles, related to military and veteran suicide. The most notable is:
  - Bryan, C.J., & Clemans, T.A. (2013). Repetitive traumatic brain injury, psychological symptoms, and suicide risk in a clinical sample of deployed military personnel. JAMA Psychiatry.

Military Continuity Project (MCP) -- PI: Kate Comtois, Ph.D.

- Sub-Contracts for the following bases have been completed: Fort Bragg, Twentynine Palms and Camp Lejuene.
- Recruitment started Twentynine Palms and Fort Bragg April 2013. Camp Lejeune recruitment opened in August 2013.

- To date, 53 participants have been enrolled, i.e., consented, assessed, and assigned to treatment condition.
- A plan for collection of medical records has been set out with both Col Earles, Director of Behavioral Health, at Ft. Bragg and through Michelle Wideman with HQMC.
- Data collection is proceeding at all installations and all policies and procedures are working well.
- Plans for next quarter:
  - Complete the recruitment process.
  - Continue data collection.
  - Continue delivering the caring text messages.

Development and Evaluation of a Brief, Suicide Prevention Intervention Reducing Anxiety Sensitivity -- PI: Brad Schmidt, Ph.D.

- The CAST project was completed in June of 2013. As such, there are no further plans or project milestones.
- Results for major findings:
  - The aim of this investigation was to design and evaluate the efficacy of an AS treatment more specifically focused on its cognitive component. Non-treatment seeking participants (N = 108) with elevated AS were randomly assigned to a one-session intervention utilizing psychoeducation and interoceptive exposure techniques to target AS or a health information control intervention and assessed posttreatment and at one-month follow-up.
  - The active treatment condition produced significantly greater reductions in AS at posttreatment. Group differences persisted at one-month follow-up that were specific to AS cognitive concerns. Moreover, changes in cognitive AS mediated symptom change at follow-up including suicide outcomes.
  - Despite the brevity of the treatment intervention, findings demonstrate that it resulted in substantial reductions in AS cognitive concerns that were linked with symptom improvement.
- Have presented the following:
- Manuscripts under review:
- Schmidt, N.B., Capron, D.W., Raines, A.M., & Allan, N.P. (2013). Randomized Clinical Trial Evaluating the Efficacy of a Brief Intervention Targeting Anxiety Sensitivity Cognitive Concerns. Manuscript submitted for publication.

- All required materials have been acquired and programmed and all staff has been hired and is in the process of training.
- The entire research team conducted a practice run (with no participants) on site at Camp Shelby to determine if any logistical issues needed to be addressed prior to the onset of data collection. No problems were encountered and preliminary work on scheduling participants pending full approval of the protocol has begun.
- Annual IRB progress reports were submitted and continuing review was received in August 2013.
- Plans for next quarter:
  - Initiate baseline data collection: with 75-125 participants (expected) assessed each day.

- And, working with a software developer to produce a brief, computer-based intervention aimed at reducing cognitive bias modification.
- Working with Co-Investigator, Dr. Edward Bernat, to finalize and test the suicidal biomarker protocol.
- Plans for next quarter:
  - Begin the recruitment and initiation of the randomized clinical trial.

Reportable Outcomes:

Leveraging

The Consortium continues to leverage its existing materials and tasks into projects and resources for other entities. The MSRC collaborates in leveraging funds that include an increase of grant funds, time, and infrastructure support. Below are some of the most noteworthy leveraging funds efforts: (Total funds - approximately $72,222,470.)

Dr. Peter Gutierrez provided consultation for the recently awarded $10,000,000 Omega-3 and Suicide Prevention grant, in exchange for Dr. Acierno including the MSRC Common Data Elements in its data collection.

Jennifer Hames, FSU graduate student, earned a dissertation grant for the amount of $10,000 with the support of MSRC Co-Director, Thomas Joiner. The grant was awarded by the Greater Good Science Center/John Templeton Foundation to support on gratitude. Ms. Hames research is titled, "Testing the Efficacy of a Gratitude Intervention in Individuals at Risk for Suicide and Depression".

Dr. Rebecca Bernert, funded PI, was awarded the NIH Extramural Career Development LRP for Clinical Researchers.

Dr. Gutierrez is working with the Colorado Office of Suicide Prevention as an advisor on their public health campaign targeting working age men. Dr. Gutierrez sent the MSRC common data elements to them as an opportunity to use as a self-assessment on their website.

Dr. Thomas Joiner collaborated with Dr. Pamela Keel on a study of suicidal behavior and eating disorders. They will review the inclusion of military history questions in the survey.

At the request of Jane Pearson at NIMH, Drs. Gutierrez and Joiner are discussing ways to leverage the MSRC CDE and make use of existing data sets to explore questions of treatment effectiveness.

Dr. Peter Gutierrez reviewed and consulted on the Defense Center of Excellence's (DCoE) Screening and Assessment Tools for Suicide Prevention Guide Resource.

In efforts to support the next generation of suicidologists, the MSRC is providing pilot grant opportunities for Denver VAMC MIRECC postdoctoral fellows. The postdoctoral fellows' salaries are supported by the fellowship program; MSRC pilot grants allow fellows to conduct research relevant to the Consortium, within the structure of a developed program.

Dr. Gutierrez participated on a panel during the Virtual Mentoring Network to Enhance Diversity of the Mental Health Research Workforce (VMED) program at the AAS Annual Conference, to discuss career options and strategies that allow one to contribute to the goal of reducing the toll of suicide.

Drs. Gutierrez and Joiner and CO Castro provided written input on the VA-DOD Clinical Practice Guidelines for Suicide Prevention.

Drs. Gutierrez and Joiner, at the request of Col Castro and the House of Representatives, discussed the development of a proposal and designating an expert team to research IED exposure and possibly include this in the Common Data Elements.

The MSRC provided a Research Training Day to 25 doctoral and postdoctoral students prior to the AAS Annual Conference. This leveraged the space and infrastructure of the conference. Also MSRC members served as faculty, allowing the leveraging of honorarium fees.

Dr. Joiner provided his expert opinion to Dr. Andrew Blatt regarding Dr. Elder and the DOD study on Predictive Analytics for Suicide Risk, on the application of these techniques.

At the request of Dr. Nassauer, Dr. Joiner consulted on hyperbaric oxygen therapy (HBOT).

Elizabeth Allen, Ph.D., USAMRMC/TATRC funded PI requested the support of the MSRC to help recruit Army couples for a family study with a military suicide risk component. The MSRC connected Dr. Allen with MSRC funded PI, Dr. Julie Cerel to support each other's recruitment efforts.

MSRC will assist the Defense Suicide Prevention Office (DSPO) and the VA DOD with their community summits. (VA DOD will not have a Suicide and Prevention conference this year.) The intent is to provide 4 presenters – 2 at each summit (clinical and research). Based on agenda entries they will try to select MSRC projects that match the subject areas.

Pre-doctoral and postdoctoral training experiences at FSU and Denver

- The MSRC funds four postdoctoral pilot grants:
  - Assessment of Cognitive Functioning as it relates to Risk for Suicide in Veterans with HIV/AIDS, Dr. Gina Signoracci, Denver VAMC, $47,454.
  - Behaviorally Assessing Suicide Risk, Dr. Sean Barnes, Denver VAMC, $46,328.
  - Romantic Relationship Satisfaction and Self-Directed Violence in Veterans, Dr. Amanda Stoeckel, SLC VAMC, $40,160.
  - Longitudinal Assessment of Physical Activity and Suicide Risk, Dr. Collin Davidson, Denver VAMC, $46,665.
- MSRC offered dissertation awards of $2,000 to:

  - Alexis May with the University of British Columbia on the study, Assessing Motivations for Suicide Attempts: Developing and Validating a Theoretically Driven Instrument.
  - Dan Capron from FSU on the Evaluation of a Cortisol-Augmented Interpretation Bias Modification for Anxiety Sensitivity on Suicidal Ideation.
- The first annual MSRC Pre-Conference Training Day was April 23rd, in Austin, TX in conjunction with the AAS annual conference. The MSRC provided financial support to graduate/medical students, postdoctoral fellows, or residents to attend the American Association of Suicidology's annual conference and participate in the MSRC pre-conference training day. The aims of the pre-conference training day were to educate advanced students and fellows in state-of-the-art research techniques, including grant writing, research design, and regulatory issues.
- The success of the Training Day was so well noted that the event will be held again at next year's AAS conference.
- Chris Hagan and Caroline Silva presented posters at the International Society for the Study of Self Injury conference. Also, Chris Hagan presented a poster and received an early career prize (Andrej Marusic Prize and $1,300) at ESSSB.

- Jennifer Hames, in collaboration with Co-Director, Dr. Thomas Joiner, submitted a letter of intent for a project on suicidology with a military component.
- Caroline Silva, with the support of Dr. Joiner, submitted an F-31 application to NIH. The preliminary data and training experience were provided by the MSRC.

Research and review on various manuscript projects continues

- Mike Anestis (lead) provided updates on the impulsivity manuscript. Was submitted to Clinical Site Review.
- Sean Barnes (lead) provided updates on the LGBTQ paper. The resubmit was accepted in SLTB. Some feedback was provided and it recommended future research.
- Lindsay Bodell (lead) provided updates on the eating disorders and suicide review paper. Revisions were done and still with Clinical Psychology Science and Practice.
- Mike Anestis (with assistance from Jetta Hanson) provided updates on the BAC (blood alcohol content) meta-analysis paper. Mike Anestis has reviewed the methods and results. There has been a great amount of interest after the AAS presentation. Dr. Gutierrez is reviewing the updates.

Possible new entries for manuscripts - maybe one of the first within a study team:

- Cerel – she is working on a paper using the bereavement data from her study and plans to submit it to JAMA. She is presenting the data at a conference in New Zealand.
- Windows to Hope study - is considering a manuscript.
- OConner (et al) – based out of the Louisville VA, a theoretical paper on rational behind suicide prevention group and the use of the CAMS framework. It is mainly anecdotal safety and feedback data from the participants. A first draft is expected soon and then a possible submission afterwards.

Other

Core C Director, Jon Maner, Ph.D., FSU Professor of Psychology, was selected as the recipient of the 2013 American Psychological Association (APA) Distinguished Scientific Award for Early Career Contribution to Psychology in the area of social psychology. This is a great accomplishment for Dr. Maner, as only one person is chosen every two years as the top person in an entire discipline's early career cohort.

Dr. Brad Schmidt (the PI for one of our projects), has been selected as one of this year's Florida State University (FSU) Distinguished Research Professors. The award was presented at the Faculty Awards Ceremony in April. Each year only 3 FSU faculty members are selected for this prestigious award, which recognizes outstanding career achievements in research and creative activity.

The “References” section contains a listing of the many conference presentations, publications and white papers that are directly or indirectly associated with MSRC.

Conclusion:

The Military Suicide Research Consortium at Florida State University has again reached its annual goals and research aims. Florida State University has eight active subcontracts with various institutions, in stages from initiating to near completion, and MSRC continues to accept additional letters of intent noting that all current funds have been allocated. The three Cores continue to collaborate, working toward the same ultimate goals of suicide prevention in the military and information dissemination to affected parties who are accountable and/or involved in ensuring the mental health of military personnel.
